Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 27 January 2004.
- 2a) ☒ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☐ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

- 4) ☒ Claim(s) 4-6, 8-10 is/are pending in the application.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

1. Claims 4, 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kazuoki (JP 02-128343).

Kazuoki discloses an outgas collection method comprising the steps of:

holding, within an exposure chamber under vacuum (FIG. 1 and Abstract: a vacuum vessel), a substrate on which surface a resist film is formed (FIG. 1, element 1);
irradiating said resist film with an electron beam (FIG. 1, element 2 and Abstract);
and

collecting an outgas released from said resist film when irradiated with said electron beam to prevent the outgas from absorbing the energy of the electron beam (Abstract: the substrate 1 consisting of the matter is irradiated with the electron beam in the vacuum film forming device to release the gasses and the gasses are collected through the pump 4).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 5, 6, 9, and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kazuoki (JP 02-128343) in view of Takashi et al. (JP 59157566).

Kazuoki discloses the claimed invention as discussed above except the comprising of the step that analyzing a constituent of said collected outgas released from said resist film when irradiated with said electron beam.

Takashi et al. disclose a device for analyzing a gas released when a sample is irradiated by an electron beam in a vacuum condition (Abstract), wherein the released gas is collected and analyzed by a high speed gas analyzer (Abstract and FIG. 1, element 16) to determine information about the corresponding substances in the sample by comparing a measured value with a calibration value (Abstract).

Therefore, it would have been obvious for one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the method for collecting the outgas disclosed by Kazouki such that including the step of analyzing the collected gas as disclosed by Takashi et al. The motivation of doing so is to obtain the corresponding substances contained in the sample or substrate in accordance to the released gases by comparing a measured value with a calibration value as taught by Takashi et al. (Abstract).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 4-6, 8 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
